

So Fresh MARKET

As the seasons change and the temperatures cool, families and friends are moving their gatherings indoors. The holidays are approaching and, with them, the end of the year and a time to reflect and be thankful. So Fresh Market is going into hibernation for the winter months and bringing our 2009 season to a festive close, November 20-22. Please join us for that weekend!

We'll be reflecting on a terrific summer and fall of providing delicious, healthy food options and a gathering place for the Torrance and South Bay communities – all while giving back. We're thankful for our patrons who have shopped and supported the Market, the over 30 community groups who have volunteered and performed, and our fundraising participants to whom we have donated over $10,000.

We plan to reopen the market in spring of 2010 and look forward to welcoming So Fresh Market customers back to experience our new seasonal lineup of fresh produce and community programs! You'll be hearing more in the coming weeks through email blasts, website updates and via Facebook and Twitter.

Thank you again for your support!

Have a safe and happy holiday season and a prosperous start to 2010!